

Quiet Leadership

Leadership. Here is a great example of quiet leadership, leading by example. This young woman doesn't actually know that she is a leader, though she is an example and admired by others. Calm, fairly confident of her skills, quiet, a careful listener, Hailey doesn't need recognition for her strengths. This is a case where validation of her skills and mentoring can turn her into a revered leader. These understated leaders don't stand out in a big way, but in a powerful manner.
